

Topic: 2017

↳ Rest: The Source of Success.

People always want to stay busy like devil, but they don't know what to do and when to do. Universe is in muddle; however, this is not because of laziness but misusing energy. It would have been far better if the leaders of 1914 had simply relaxed in the sunshine, brooding peacefully, instead of rushing to Versailles and confused plans. There are much bigger problems need to discuss, but still religious sects wasting energy, in discussing women skirt and dance bands. They would rest, think calmly and stop interfering unnecessarily.

CSS - 2019Topic:

Why Teachers Should Enjoy Children's Company

Modern experts believe teachers should not interfere too much with children but should enjoy their company. Children respond positively if you like them and will not grateful to you used for personal gain. When it is mandatory, teachers can guide children without harming their mental well-being.

However, overworked lose their natural affection, so teaching should not full-time job. Tiredness leads to irritation. True friendliness with children must come naturally, not through forced self-control, as no rules can replace affection and tact.

CSS: 2020

Topic: Manto's War Against Hypocrisy

People who pretended to be holy dragged Manto into long legal battles over the moral value of his writings. He explored sexual themes to show the struggles of real people, especially the poor, laborers and prostitutes. Manto portrayed human beings as a mix of good and bad and exposed the hypocrisy of people whose appearance and reality were different. His work reflected the emotions, confusions, and restlessness of people of his time, just like other great writers.

Please give me marks