

Heavy is the head that wears the crown

1. Introduction

2. Heavy is the head that wears the crown:

2.1. An individual - being the wisest creation - is responsible for his actions

- Man's conduct with each other, environment, and technology e.t.c

2.2. Parents - being the guardians - are responsible for raising their children for the well-being of society

- Mother's lap is the child's first school

2.3. Teachers - being the role models - are responsible for nurturing young minds

- Promoting critical thinking, encouraging ~~thinking~~ and questioning, and guiding to the right path.

2.4. Politicians - being the representative of people - are responsible for working for the well-being of people

- Role of legislators and executives

2.5. Leaders - being the ideal personalities - are responsible for shaping true vision in the mind of followers

- Case study of Nelson Mandela

2.6. International organizations are responsible for performing their role with honesty and integrity

- Role of United Nations

2.7. Media is responsible for promoting the voice of justice victims and help them to get justice.

- Role of media in Noor Mugaddam's murder case

2.8. A sportsman is responsible for staying disciplined during the pressure situations to deliver miracles for his country.

- Maxwell's innings against Afghanistan in WWC'23.

2.9. A writer is responsible for writing the meaningful literary pieces that can promote critical thinking

- Writings of J.J. Rousseau, Voltaire, and Sartre during French Revolution

2.10. A military leader is responsible for acting decisively during chaos

- Role of Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir during Indo-Pak conflict, May 2025

Day: _____

Date: _____

3) Conversely, what if head wearing the crown takes it light: The implications of not fulfilling responsibilities

3.1. Cowardly behavior and negligence of leaders can lead to chaos in country
- Role of King Louis XIV during French Revolution

3.2. Professionals negligence in their duties can lead to worse consequences
- Surgeon's negligence can lead to death of an individual.

4. Conclusion