

DAY: _____

Indent the paragraph. DATE: _____

Student Centered Teaching Approach

The author criticizes modern educational theorists, who ^{advocate} for the negative notion for not meddling in children's lives. But, there is flip side to it as well. If the children are treated with warmth and kindness, they would respectfully and keenly listen to the advice of teacher without feeling breached. The children would not be intrigued by the attention which is only motivated ~~for~~ ^{by} some future purpose. Children ^{their} ~~or~~ only be interested if the teacher enjoys ^{their} ~~or~~ company naturally, without any motive ^{necessary} ~~or~~ pretence. The teacher would be able to instruct the students when it is necessary without making them feel like they are some assignment. But, the writer suggests that people should not adopt education as a permanent profession, only two hours should be given to it when surrounded by children for hours, it is ^{and} ~~very~~ human of the teacher to feel irritated ^{and} ~~entire~~. At last, the author says that if children are treated with love and affection, no rules would be needed to discipline them.

Word count: 171

Idea is ok

Spelling errors found.

DAY: _____

DATE: _____

18 Oracles of Ancient Greece

Human has always felt the urge to communicate with the creator of this vast universe and to act according to the wishes of God. In ancient Greece, soothsayers would always interpret messages of God to masses through different signs sent by God. Dream interpretation and palm reading was also common. The most famous fortune tellers in Greece were Helenus, Amphiaraus and Cassandra. But, intermittently, instead of communicating through signs, God would communicate directly with people through prophet or prophetess through transending in their souls. Fore seeing of future was also prevalent in Greece. These were oracles everywhere in Ancient Greece associated with different Gods.

Word count: 106

You are allowed to submit only one question in one pdf. The remaining questions may be submitted in separate pdfs.