

"A Visit to Cherokee"

The author

narrates

Indent the paragraph.

Author explains that during his vacation last ^M May, he decided to have a tour to exotic place spared from the holiday tour crowds. Then he went to Cherokee and there he visited Qualla Boundary town situated between mountains giving paradise view. This town ^{presented} present the Cherokee past to tourists through representing tribde craft and the life style of 18th century people. The author saw shops there, filled with traditional handmade things.

Then he ^{met} met the middle-aged shopkeeper and his fluent English impressed the author.

Repetition of "then"

Then he invited the author for lunch. Man told that he works hard during tour season and he ^{was} is also a woodcutter ^{did not} did not

The author

Author came to know that Cherokees don't only depend ^{on} trade to survival. Another way of earning for them is "Bingo weekend". On Friday afternoons of Bingo weekends, a large hall, are open to entertain people with different games. This ^{gave} give them great return. The author's last stop was the Museum in Cherokee, where art objects were the symbol of Cherokee cosmology ^{were} are displayed. Author ^{missed} missing the place after returned to home.

Total words: 550

Word Count: 190

Tense errors found. Do not include unnecessary details in precis.