Title:

Educational Sector and Moral Training

The safety and survival of humankind is requires of the appropriate use of human intelligence on the context of sympathy and affection. It is both challenge and requirement. This challenge should accept by the educators and educational institutions. Traditionally, it was the responsibility of clergy, but they remain fail. Historically, they inculcate the power and wealth concept in society, due to strong collusion with power elite and they do not have time for moral training of society. Therefore, its responsibility of educational sector to train the people morally.
