PRECIS (2020).

Enthusiasm of Manto.

Manto remained subjected to social ambivalence. His opponents questioned his character and the moral validity of his writing. However, he still remained steadfast in pursuing objectives challenging the views of conservatives. By unearthing mysteries of sex, he expressed concerns for the marginalized people. He deemed man a mixture of both devil and angel. He found a common ground with his readers on various issues. As a realist, he expressed an unbiased opinion about nature and actions of man. Like other artists, his work also pictured the restlessness of both men and women. Hence, his enthusiasm raised him above his own self.
