

Hope: the Greatest Driving force

Outline:

I- Introduction

Thesis statement: Hope is the greatest driving force at the individual, social, national and global levels.

II- Understanding: hope is the greatest driving force

III- Individual Level: Hope that lifts the Human Spirit

- 1) The hope of slaves for freedom keeps them resilient against oppression.
- 2) The hope of poor people that a savior will one day come sustains their endurance.
- 3) The hope of an unsuccessful man for a job strengthens his determination.
- 4) The hope of a scientist to find solutions keeps him consistent in his research.

IV- Social level: Hope as a Force of Collective Resilience

- 1) The hope of flood-affected people rest on the government's relief measures.
- 2) The starving people of Gaza hope for help from humanitarian allies.
- 3) The people of Balochistan hope the government will recover their missing person.
- 4) Pakistani citizens hope the government will eliminate militant groups to ensure peace.
- 5) The people of Kashmir hold hope that India and Pakistan will ensure their right to peace and freedom.

V- National level: Hope as the Spirit of Reform and Progress

- 1) Pakistan as a nation aspires to strengthen its economic position through hope and sustained effort.
- 2) Pakistan's leadership envisions rebuilding national trust through integrity and hope-driven governance.

3) Pakistan as nation aspires to resolve the Kashmir conflict through peaceful diplomacy and mutual understanding.

4) Pakistan aspires to eliminate militancy and restore lasting peace through hope and national unity.

VI- Global Level: Hope as the Foundation of Human progress

1) Japan's hope and resilience enabled its remarkable recovery after the U.S. attacks.

2) Afghanistan's hope and resilience drive its struggle toward strength and autonomy.

3) Palestine's hope for justice at the UN serves as its driving force for international recognition.

4) China's hope to become a global economic power acts as a driving force shaping the world economy.

VII- Conclusion