

Increasing Use Of Drugs in the Modern Age

Outline:

① Introduction:

Brief overview of how drug use has become a major problem in the modern world.

② Historical Background Of Drug use and Control.

Early use of natural drug for medicine and rituals; Rise of synthetic drugs Global efforts to control narcotics.

③ Main Causes

psychological stress, loneliness, peer pressure and easy access to drugs

④ Role Of Media

Social media and entertainment platforms promoting a careless attitude towards drug use.

⑤ Major Consequences

Health destruction, Family Break down moral decline and rise in crime.

⑥ Youth and Education

students most effected, Losing focus motivation and future prospects.

⑦ Role Of Religion and Society

islamic teachings, family guidance and Community Support.

⑧ Conclusion.

A united effort by individuals families can help overcome this modern crises.

Thesis Statment:

the growing use Of drugs in the modern age come from rising Stress, Loneliness and the Loss of moral values. it is not only harming individid live but also weakening the Social and moral Strength of the entire Communities.

Introductory Paragraph

in today's rapidly Changing world, the increasing use Of drugs has Become One Of the most alarming Social and moral issue Confronting humanity. what once started as the limited use Of certain Substance for medical and Scientific purposes has now turned into a widespread habit destroying million Of live across the globe.

the modern lifestyle filled with pressure, competition, unemployment and emotional struggles, has made people more ~~more~~ vulnerable to addiction. Many individuals especially the youth fall into the this trap while seeking relief from mental stress, loneliness or a sense of failure. In addition the easy availability of narcotics, the growing influence of peer pressure and the role of media and entertainment industries in portraying drug use as a modern fashionable have further worsened the situation. As a result societies are facing a rise in crime, the collapse of family structures, the decline of education, and a severe moral breakdown. The silent epidemic is not just destroying individuals but also ~~also~~ weakening nations by ~~damaging~~ their social and ~~economic~~ strength.