

~~Title: Effective way to Treat Children~~

The author states his opinion about modern educationists <sup>rewrite this sentence</sup> that they wrongly prefer not to engage with children. If a teacher shows unconditional liking for a child, the child responds to any advice and criticism positively. ~~without any anger~~. But, if a teacher wants to control them from power to implement social values, no child will be grateful. Teachers, who are genuinely affectionate towards children, ~~they~~ can give them a healthy mental environment to grow. However, it is a difficult task <sup>an</sup> ~~for~~ overburdened teacher as ~~they~~ find the company of children tiring for long hours. The author suggests that this interaction should be less than two hours for overworked teachers because children's company produces frustration among teachers. If a teacher has self control and ~~shows~~ <sup>incorrect interpretation</sup> liking for children, then rules are unnecessary to follow. Children cooperate with elders who show a genuine interest rather than conditional interest in children.
