The great irony of today's world is to condemn the past Holocaust - genocide of Jews - and ignore the contemporary killings of civilians. ~~Similarly, it has been politicized also.~~ The value of humanity, in fact, is measured who are identified with several citizenships. Palestinians are unfortunately do not fall in that piece of earth where their citizenship makes them complete humans as others. In short, selective and biased standards for measuring humanity have worsened the situation of Gazans and could not stop the occupiers from the genocide.
