"In times of war, truth is the first casualty."

(Aeschylus)

The Israel-Palestine conflict is the longest and complex conflict of the world's history of struggles for territorial disputes. Besides the war in the battlefield of Gaza, a continuous war of perspective is there on television and social media. Traditional mis-representations are faded, where only Israel's interest was kept in focus while transmissions of on televisions. Modern era social media is more bold and presents both sides situation. Palestinian civilians themselves reporting and journalising live events and destruction. On the other side there is always threat of ~~pro~~ life to them. False news and even generated through AI are also spreading misconception. Role of media includes both its dark and bright sides.
