

A Trip TO Cherokee

During his vacation, the writer had a hard time choosing a tour due to common options everywhere, and ~~Bette~~ ^{he} ~~want~~ and him wanting to go to a different place away from tour crowds. He then went to ^{town} Qualla

Boundary, in Oklahoma, with his friend

John, that was surrounded by mountain scenery and presented a paradise picture.

Qualla boundary presents ^{ed} the Cherokee past to the tourists by ~~playing~~ a song regularly in its Oconaluftee Indian village.

why have you broken the sentences into many pieces???

They managed to go to ~~the~~ souvenir shops with help of natives. They were filled with relics of the past. A middle aged man ~~flashed in~~ asked them if
