INTRODUCTION

"When marriages are delayed, Society ~~begins~~ to decay." Begins to Marriages are considered as the Cornerstone of the Society; the basic institution upon which the whole family life is built.

In recent times, the Society is on the verge of destruction due to delayed marriages.

Delayed marriages means, the marriage that took place after the pre-determined age, that is fixed by the social and cultural standards. However, several factors ~~contribute~~ towards the issue of delayed marriages. Such as; high expenditure on marriage rituals, unemployment, western influence, high social standards and educational aspirations. The reflection of As Ayesha - a 32 years Pakistani doctor, achieved the educational as well as the professional milestones in life but is unmarried, as at the time of her ideal age (set by the society) she was busy in achieving her professional ambitions, but now due to her status of being 'unmarried' or 'single' she is being boycotted out of each and every family gathering. Ayesha is the reflection of an average Pakistani who is being pressed between ambitions and traditions, ~~and now at the age of 32~~ struggling to balance dreams with societal expectations. As marriages are considered on the basis of morality in our society, but delay in marriages gives birth to many social evils. ~~Likewise, delayed marriages are equally a menace for the society.~~ <sup>The</sup> early marriages. Therefore, delayed marriages are regarded as the emerging threat of the society that is influenced by various social, political, economic and cultural factors.
