Historically war is the main cause of civilization's breakdown and it ^{also} curbs the growth of human civilization.

~~The wars~~ have proved unlimited destruction for both defeated and ~~avenging~~ parties. In modern age, wars have been more lethal due to advancement of technology.

However, humanity can be saved by two efforts: individual efforts of citizens to refuse the wars and do not participate in the wars and by the governments steps to make numerous strategies to address the root causes of the wars.
