

Titles - Laziness: A Misguided Notion

According to the author, the ~~chaos~~ chaos in this world is due to the misdirected actions of the people who becomes angry when the time is wasted. The world is in ~~chaos~~ stemming from the lack in kindness and attention instead of so called laziness that everyone predicts. The leaders, in the past, have done the same mistake of misdirected energy. If they have done nothing instead of taking actions without thought or purpose, today's world might be in the good trim, than. Every now and then, people should rethink that doing nothing is not the cause of evil in this world but the misdirection.
