

Importance of language:-

Human's official name is homo sapiens but many anthropologists call them Homo-faber - creator of tools could be the third one. Man's knowledge and efficiency come from words to become faber and sapiens. We should be worst creatures without language, with high IQ and no language, we should be like Yahoos of gulliver's travels - creation that can't be controlled and therefore condemned forever between two creations. It was language that gave access to knowledge and information, conveyed religious thoughts, ethical values and laws formations. It was language that ~~made~~ led to civilizations.

Man is called homo sapiens and homo faber, but above all he is homo loquax - the talker. Without language humans would be clever but frustrated creatures, like Swift Yahoos, unable to live by instinct or attain true humanity. Language made possible knowledge, communication, religion, ethics, laws and civilization itself. It is speech that transformed humans from mere animals into beings capable of culture and progress.

University Education: The tool of raising Society

A University's Purpose is to raise better members of Society. It does not make heroes or geniuses nor it is place to build ~~actors~~ poets, founders, leaders or conquerors. ~~It does not create authors or Scientists like Shakesper or Newton.~~ It does not focus is to build intellectual Society, make minds sharper; ~~and~~ purify national tests and teach true Principles. It is education that enhances consciousness, rational thinking and decision making power that enable to become credible and master of any subject.
