

Title

Need-based Objectives of Organization

Organizations must develop their objectives through precise assessment of the needs of consumers and direct these towards demand satisfaction. All services and products providers should conduct beforehand survey to assess the needs of people and designed products and programs accordingly. Success of organization is determined by its purpose-oriented functioning. This functioning then proliferate employment and create cooperative systems. Before industrialization, enterprises were small, owned by single individual and produce small goals. The progression of industrialization and technology led to hierarchical objectives and distinct management functioning within single organization.

Day: _____

Date: ____/____/20____

So, when industries started to achieve the objectives, their efficiency culminated and measured by capability to satiate their consumers.

Wood count: 110/322

Comprehension -2008-

Question:

What is the chief characteristic of the modern political civilization?

The chief characteristic of modern political civilization is that it has unexamined man as "thing" which can be exploited and not looked at man as having personality that can be enhanced through cultural factors.

What are possibilities of our faith, which can be ^{of} advantage to world?

The possibilities of our faith which can be of advantage to the world is remodification of mentality of our whole society, so that it feels the urge of fresh ideas and desires. Every man transform his inner self in order to equip next generation to deal with uncertainties.

What is the chief danger confronting the superb idealism of our faith?

The chief danger confronting the superb idealism of our faith is that society is ^{not} developed on equity and fairness. People are not emancipated from medieval fancies and dogmas. These living in the prison of their thoughts and emotions, which they

Day: _____

Date: ____/____/20____

Women accused themselves.

Why is the Indian Muslim in danger of coming to an unmanly compromise?

The Indian Muslim is in danger of coming to an unmanly compromise with the forces opposing him. Because he has ceased to explore the depth of his inner life and is unable to live in the full color and spectacle of life, consequently he is in danger of compromise, which, he thinks, can not be vanquish in open conflict.

What is necessary for achievement?

For achievement it is necessary to transform inner self first. All of the boundaries that impede a person can be overtaken by a person. Societal's imposed beliefs must be challenged.