

Crisis Of Good Governance in Pakistan: Need for reforms and institution building

Outline

1. Introduction

Thesis statement : Good governance plays pivotal role in country's progress, but Pakistan has been facing crisis of good governance in the form of no rule and law, political instability, nepotism, unemployment and extremism. These should be resolved by establish rule of law, strengthen democracy, mitigate nepotism and improve security. (47 words)

2. Existing crisis of good governance in Pakistan

- a. Absence of rule and law
- b. Political instability
- c. Nepotism and institutional corruption
- d. Rising unemployment, poverty and inflation
- e. Degradation of social structures
- f. Rampant extremism, terrorism and security concerns

3. Institutional reforms to restore good governance

Checked By: _____

Signature: _____

DAY: _____

DATE: _____

- a. Establish rule of law and strict accountability
- b. Strong and independent parliament
- c. De-politicization of administration
- d. Human resource building through training institutions
- e. Maintain good civil-military relations
- f. Strengthening of security institutions

4. Conclusion

Essay

As Abraham Lincoln said "the best way to predict the future is to create it." The crisis of good governance in Pakistan are a serious concern for the progress and prosperity of the country. These crisis are not only impacting the progress of country but also a nightmare for the future of upcoming generations. There is a need of the hour to

Checked By: _____

Signature: _____

DAY: _____

DATE: _____

alleviate these crisis to make improvement in the country. It needs a holistic approach to deal with these crisis.

That will be resulted into the implementation of good governance in the pakistan. There should be a proper framework for this issue, because Pakistan has been facing these crisis since its independence.

Moreover, good governance plays a pivotal role in the country's progress. Pakistan has been facing crisis of good governance in the form of absence of rule and law, political instability, nepotism, extremism and unemployment. These crisis should be resolved by establishment of rule and law, strengthen democracy, mitigate nepotism and by improving security in the Pakistan.