Please evaluate them

I also need a sincere suggestion:

I am very much weak in reading this type of complex English language which is used in English Precis and Comprehension (specifically the language which is used in 2017's precis and composition and 2019's comprehension).

i am good in reading and writing of journalistic type of language because of practice..

i also want to improve my reading practice for this type of Written language

Tell me any book or any platform so that i add them into my daily reading practice...

i know it will be increased by practice but i am unable to find any Suitable book in which this type of language is being used....

please suggest me

A Documentary : Giving Hope to Palestinians

Nazir Hassan is a Prominent Palestinian film-maker. He produced a documentary in 1994, on which he criticized upon Israel that they have stolen other's homeland and considered this act as an "Independence"! When Israel planned to annex more Palestinian land, the writer received an email from Nazir, in which he told him ~~that~~ about his film. In this, Nazir shown to Palestinians that if you become too exasperate about the politics being played in Palestine, you would detract from your real aspirations and destiny. He suggested not to fall in this trap, as his experience saved him from this trap as well. This new documentary has changed the perspective of Palestinians from being helpless over Israel's capturing of their rights. This limited version of holy work is being published on Aljazeera Arabic but instead of in parts it must be in one go.

To know the hidden defects, it is mandatory that what our enemies tell about us. Our friends often admire us in accordance to our will. Either they do not consider our defects as a defect or they show such a respect for ourselves that they hide them or bow before them. In contrast, our enemy scrutinize us from every aspect and highlights our mistakes. Hence, he makes a little thing bigger as of animosity, but somehow those are factual. A friend always promotes friend's virtues and enemy defects. That's why, we should be thankful to our enemy he informs us about our mistakes. In this context, enemy proven to be well in front of friend.
