

Essay Paragraph :-

Third remedy :-

Then comes the remedy for allocating Budget to improve infrastructure. A handsome amount must be allocated just for infrastructure in order to facilitate students. Allocating budget alone is not enough. Along with allocating budget HEC representative must visit campuses before granting them affiliation. Many universities do not have proper and even basic management for special students and staff members. Any special person who is on wheel chair is obviously unable to reach his desired place on upper floors or basement. How is he supposed to use the stairs. This is the state of poor management system of our institutes. Providing lifts and improving infrastructure is not even a privilege these are the basic needs of students.

Similarly, every institute must provide modern laboratories and research facilities. Students with a science field must have access to laboratories otherwise, how they are supposed to perform experiments and tests? A very renowned university IIT does not even prefer their own students for biotechnology M.Phil Program because the students do not have enough lab experience in their BS Program. These kind of Pre-Postrows and senseless acts are a huge barrier between our country and prosperity. Another very major ill nowadays is hygiene issues. How can students work and study properly if they fall sick after eating mess and food from university courtyards. Basic hygiene also involves sanitary conditions of restrooms, especially females restrooms. Restrooms are void of dust bins, soaps, tissue papers and paper bags. Government and higher authorities must provide proper budget to universities to solve these basic problems.
