"One of the biggest curses from which India is suffering is bribery and corruption. That really is a poison."
(Muhammad Ali Jinnah).

Corruption is the abuse of entrusted power for personal gain. It includes actions like bribery, nepotism, fraud, and misuse of public office for private benefit. Corruption can lead to polarized the legislative and judicial systems for personal gain. While, these personal gain can disrupt the whole system of the Pakistan by executive system. Similarly, these misuse of the system can lead political instability and lack of accountability, bad governance, interference in constitutional system, nepotism, and military intervention in the political system of the Pakistan. However, these may affect the educational system and natural resources; enhancing mistrust of the public, increasing in economic degradation and lack of rule of law. In these, corruptions have enhance bad governance, lack of political instabilities; and fall of democracy; while in contrast, affecting all these systems which stabilize Pakistan international and world wide.

Political instability is the worse thing in Pakistan. Personal gain and misuse of own resources can cause corruption. All these can lead conflict to each other; increasing personal interest for personal gain which affect the Pakistan governance system and lead barbarity and ~~controversies~~ controversy in a country. Using social media and media talk, criticising others for personal interest and damaging their public trust which reduce the public trust on government system. Although, it will lead the misbehave and misperception in leading public opinion. Personal gain and barbarity can deprive public representing in natural resources, fundamental rights, and religious thoughts. These may lead public rising to criticize the government. Furthermore, in Nepal, misleading public opinion and deprive them from fundamental rights can lead them to extremism. The sudden rising of public in Nepal is the valid example of political instability ~~of~~ in corruption, ~~in which the peoples cannot tolerate~~ Moreover, political instability can degrade and increase the public interest in on the system. Responsibility is a good job to introduce and enhance the system.

Unfortunately, in Pakistan, the lack of accountability is due to corruption. In corruption, bribery, personal gain, misuse of public opinion and personal interest can cause the lack of accountability in the system. These controversies among provinces, the prime minister and the chief minister has the responsibilities to in providing facilities and presenting public interest, but actually corruption ease these responsibilities. Although, everyone has their own personal interest for personal gain which may cause lack of accountability internationally and in world diplomatic dialogues. However, countries which have no accountability can leads the lack of economic integration in world wide. The Pakistan has the 46.6 percent debt which annually pay for IMF, because of corruption which lead us no accountability. Moreover, corruption can cause mistrust of bilateral countries due lack of responsibilities in economic integration, military and technology.

Thirdly, the bad governance play an important role in shifting judicial system become more dependent which is worse for both for government and for democracy.

Lack of knowledge play a profound role in politician and bureaucrats, which represent the government system. Corruption is the core in a bad government. Damaging and collapsing the judicial system by corrupt leader will lead the lack of rule of law. However, these lead in degrading fundamental human rights, which is the basic needs of life, specifically as mentioned in the constitution.

Bad governance come from incompetent policies making by least legislative and then implementing by executive just for their own mutual interest. These can lead the mistrust on judicial system which is a key role in providing the basic human right regarding to constitution.

Depriving from fundamental human rights and from natural resources all of because of corruption. Leading personal gain for own advantage, causing barbarity, extremism, mistrust, and corruption. Moreover, striving for family families and for relatives individually, will eridicate the rule of law. Individual struggle for own interest either they are in the form of passing amendment, or new law will create the bad governance in the form of corruption.

Similarly, interfering in legislative, judiciary, and executive is not a good thing for Pakistan constitution. Actually, interfering is based on personal interest, material gain, and ^{with} advantage. These will lead the social injustice, eradicating humanitarian rights, and extremism. Eradicating these all rights will cause corruption. However, interfering in personal properties forcibly deprived them from their own rights by corruption; lack of immoral and unethical behaviour can lead in interference for personal gain. Although military interference and political will can hence the lack of rule of law and ~~bad~~ policies that will create controversy among a public and nation because of corruption. Vulnerable governance and lack of democracy caused by corruption; interfering and forcing someone to deprive them from human rights can reduce judicial status and vulnerable the constitution. Moreover, forcibly suppressing and ~~stressing~~ stressing the judicial system of Pakistan can create the mistrust on Pakistan constitution; while creates tension and eradicates toleration that will cause extremism which is the valid proof of corruption.

Nepotism creates unrest, ~~trig-~~ ~~gered~~ ~~perpetrated~~

Nepotism creates unrest, triggered and erode the public interest in competition. Politicians and military states can create nepotism in the system. Creating nepotism can ease the public patience and trust that it will lead them to extremism; corruption by nepotism will enhance personal gaining and self interest in the system. However, struggling for individual states can erode the collective hardwork that will create a misperception in the competition. Although, gaining individual benefits and eradicating the humanitarian rights is the valid example of nepotism in a corruption. Moreover, in Bangladesh the nepotism can be a corruption can lead erode the public trust and lead them to unrest and protest. These case the public believe in the system and mentally torture them in the future. No future dreams can lead them to become achieve, because of nepotism that will erode motivation to become future star.

Sixthly, the educational system of Pakistan plays an important role in shipping the and enhancing the economic sector, political system, institutions and the governance system of Pakistan. But unfortunately the corruption in Pakistan has drastically eroded these system. Lack of knowledge in political scenario, incompetent rule of law, misleading policies in educational status, personal intervention for personal gaining and the bad governance policies will corrupt the educational the educational institution. However annual budget for educational institution less than to paying for teaching staff. These will lead teachers protest demanding incomplete monthly salary, and will affect them. Students. Although, it will affect the students communication skills, creativity and lack of confidence in public which is the ultimate effects of corruption. Furthermore, it will enhance the inflation rate among young generation; lack of job opportunities and the mistrust in the governance which leads emotional depression. Moreover, corruption creates fears in a educational institutions which affects the creativity and skills that will help in increasing technology and economy economies. Therefore, corruption plays an important role in degradation of educational institution and affecting student life.

Natural resources in Pakistan is the core element in shaping the Pakistan economy, but it has been degraded by corruption. Political and military intervention in natural resources for personal gain has erode the humanitarian rights in the natural resources. Personal interest by the elite status and the nation interest for personal gain has devastated the natural resources and will lead the social injustice for natural distribution of the resource. However, KP and Baluchistan has been deprived in their natural resources by corruption. Although, America want to intervene the natural resources of Pakistan and can distribute equally among the elite class. According to social media, America has the interfering in the natural resources of Pakistan and paying bank dollars to Pakistan. These will affects the fundamental rights of humans which leads to protest against government. Moreover, corruption has affects the fundamental rights and deprived them in the equal distribution of the wealth in a natural resources. Thus corruption has the core element in devastated the fundamental rights of the natural resources.

Eightly, increasing corruption will ease and degrade the agriculture and industrial sector, the education and technological institution. The agriculture and industrial sector of Pakistan plays a significant role in shaping and enhancing the economy. Enhancing corruption will directly affect these two sector and the economy become decrease. Lack of government policies for exports and imports which reduce the economic condition for a country and which is the ultimate source of corruption which affect the eco-mic sector of Pakistan. Corruption affect the bilateral dialogue for economic integration which reduce the economy and increase the inflation rate in a country. However, lack of communication skills and bad governance policies in the economic integration cooperation which degrade the economies of the nation. Although, these will lead the falling of economies, which affect the population and enhance the mistrust and erode the social justice in the country.
Moreover, falling in the economy will degrade the technology and its effects come in on military advancement of the system. Thus, corruption also has erode the military equipments on by economy.

Similarly, creating mistrust by corruption is the core way to eliminate the democracy amongs people. Electing representative representative and involving in decision-making process for mutual coordination is ~~may~~ democracy, in which the public participating in to solve the issue by mutual co-operation, but corruption is the ultimate source to eliminate these mutual cooperation and creates the mistrust on the representatives. Although, it will affect the governene system and a tension among the government representative which will lead a controversies and will erupt the entire system. Furthermore, it comes the elected representative which do not involve public opinion and giving them a freedom in participating on issue, because of personal interest of the representative and the state. Although, these erode the interest in the system and eliminate their trust which creates mistrust on the entire system.

Enhance the political stability or eliminate the political instability which affect the democratic system of the country. By erasing the political instability which enhance and promote the democratic system of the country. However good governance play an important role by improving the democracy; making good policies, giving favouring to the public opinion, which erode the social injustice and mistrust, and promoting good ideas and interest regarding to democracy. Although, a well know education which make a good communication skills, helping in bilateral diplomatic ~~dialog~~ dialogue which attract a good well investors to our country by democracy. Furthermore, education is the backbone of the good governance system, which plays a profound role in the democracy. So, Pakistan must should focus on the educational institution, political instabilities, and the last one is corruption, which play a key role to erode all these institutions. Legislature and Judiciary is the key state element which plays a significant role in shifting the Pakistan economy by playing ^{and enhancing} a good governance and educational institution which is a key role in shifting and long lasting the entire system. Executive plays a good role in both the legislative and judicial system by giving them a freedom to make a rule of law and then implemented it by the executive. However, it improves the justice system and social justice system by giving them free hand, and provide a platform to engage the public and solve their issues.

Although, it will erode the bureaucracy, personal interest, and the corruption system, which increase the trust and the compatioratism. Moreover, Pakistan should focus in making rule of law and enhancing the legislative and judicial system which erase all the ~~corrupt~~ corrupt status. Also, Pakistan has to improve the educational system which is the key role in the legislative and judiciary system.
Lastly, accountabilitys which is the most ^{significant} part of all the institutions. Government should make policies by knowing ^{their} responsibilities of all the institutional system to follow them by proper way.

However it will make the system more strong and erode all of the corrupt status. By knowing responsibilities making the system more strong in mutual cooperation either by bilateral or multilateral. Although it will improve the economic integration bilateral which has a very role in the world wide.
