focused on sidelining opposition's economic plan instead of giving enough time to stabilise the economy. Pakistan is no more than a miracle, as from independence till present day she witnesses instability in institutional structures. Even then, Pakistan struggles to achieve sustainable prosperity by regional leader's cooperation. The history of Pakistan's instability can be divided into three phases. ^{Firstly,} The era of experimentation from Ayub's Howard Trickle Down policy to Bhutto's Nationalism. Secondly, the era of twisting economy which revolves around Zia's aid based economy to Sharif's short term loan based economy. Thirdly, the era of problematic economy starts from Musharraf's consumer choice to Al Sharif's crony capitalism which reversed by Khan's concept of "Rayasat-e-Madina". These inconsistent policies and leaderships which focus on establishing new economic systems instead of mending already established systems. Therefore, even after aids, short and long term loans, Pakistan become a debt trapped nation. These all factors contribute in backsliding of sustainable prosperity. However, it is never too late Pakistan by adopting authentic policies and country's prosperity as a priority can cure the disease. Pakistan possesses human capital, resources and strategic location, which are enough for a new start. Meanwhile, focusing on inconsistent policies, economic and political dilemma hamper sustainable prosperity even after regional alliance.
