Pakistan has been facing different issues since its birth. Problems like, early death of Political leadership, economic problems, Constitutional problems and Strategic problems as well.

Main problem was early death of loyal Political leadership of Pakistan.

Quaid-e-Azam, the founder of Pakistan was passed away soon, then first Prime Minister of Pakistan Liaquat Ali Khan was assassinated and so on. These were main set backs for a resilient state.

Pakistan faced administrative problems from since its birth. Shifting of people and their placement was even more difficult.

However, Pakistan, with early problems, survived.

Another major problem that caused crisis of government in Pakistan was, delay in formation of first constitution of Pakistan. The first constitution was formed after 4 years of birth of Pakistan, in 1953.

In those 4 years, Government India Act 1935, was main Act not through which system of government had been running. There was flaw in that act-

That delay in constitution created many government issues in Pakistan. Even today, its after shocks are felt in the country.

Another issue Pakistan has been facing is, invention of Undemocratic forces in the country.

This is the reason, Pakistan has been victim of good good governance crisis.

Marital Laws, in this country, has made it as a unpredictable country like, no one exactly knows that any dictator may violate the constitution and he stays as long as he enjoys the dictatorship.

Marital Laws like 1958, 1977, 1999 and emergency of 2007, made this country as a weak democratic state.

Government crisis has been main issue problem of Pakistan in its every era.

Dictatorism of necessity played a worst role in good governance - Pakistan was divided into East Pakistan and West Pakistan.

There were reservations about more than enough role of

of West Pakistan as compared to East Pakistan. There were miseries there in East Pakistan, like language issue, government share problems and leadership issues were also existing.

That all situation fueled to intensify government crisis.

One of the reasons of government crisis is institutional weaknesses. Institutions in Pakistan have been remained under the influence of personality of head of the relevant institution.

There have been lack of professionalism in institutions. It created government crisis in Pakistan. Politics in judiciary, and other institutions has created main problems.

Consequences of Crisis of Good Governance in Pakistan
are resultantly three.

First of all, People do
have trust deficit on democracy
in Pakistan, because in this
so called democratic system
does not have yet fruitful for them. Although so called slogans of equality and good governance have been raised by, no solid result
have been received yet.

Another consequence is dysfunctionality of institutions
of Pakistan. Interference of different powerful institutions into others, is main problem in this regard.

Nepotism has been rampant
a lot. Jobs are being almost allocated to favored persons.
It is quite unnecessary to Economic Pressure on Pakistan.

Several institutions, like PIA, Railways and many others, do not have their permanent heads or @.

Some of officers are enjoying extra charge.

This all is due to ^{crisis} of good governance in Pakistan.

Violation of Rights of people of Pakistan, is another consequence of crisis of good governance in Pakistan.

40. In good governance, attention is paid to human rights and, but due to poor governance, people are facing human rights violation. No one, who is in government, cares of people, whether they are enjoying human rights or not. Almost 16 Crore people are under poverty line, as per presented by World Bank.

One of the biggest consequences of crisis of good governance is lawlessness in Pakistan. Whenever there is absence of good governance, lawlessness will prevail. Here people know that if they will escape from punishment, bribery is their main weapon by which they prey their victims. One more consequence is, under development of political and democratic culture in Pakistan. Poor governance do have many problems, there is no flourishing of political culture in which democratic values become mature.

This maturity helps in character building of the society in the country.

There are some necessary steps, need to be taken to get out of crisis of good governance in Pakistan.

1st First step, should be taken, is rule of law.

Rule of law can change each and everything in correct way. It is foremost force that changes a society completely.

Another step is civilion supremacy in the country.

Pakistan does have Parliamentary form of government - civilion government is chosen by

Public of Pakistan. No

interferes of undemocratic

forces in civilion institutions.

Whenever powerful institutions

do have illegal interferes

in matters of other institution

this creates a complete

disaster in the country.

Pakistan is a democratic country. In democracy, local government is basic feature of democracy. Local government system should be strength at ground levels.

Strict accountability is needed in the country.

There should be a proper legislation in Parliament.

Their laws should be made on priority bases, and those laws must be implemented - laws must be equal for all citizens of the country. No one should be above the law.

Another step, which should be taken is, free and fair elections in Pakistan, under the neutral election commission of Pakistan.

Hence, government should be governing to its people.
Pakistan have been facing
numerous serious problems.

Early deaths of top political leadership, interference of undemocratic force, ~~or~~ ~~the~~ ~~to~~ poor performance of the institution and derail
of democracy created crisis of good governance in Pakistan. Serious steps are needed to improve
the situation of governance
in the country.
