

Passage:

Friendship is one of the most valuable relationships in human life. Unlike blood relations, it is chosen voluntarily. A true friend supports us in times of difficulty and shares our happiness. However, friendship demands honesty, loyalty, and mutual respect. A selfish or dishonest friend can bring more harm than good. Therefore, one must be wise in choosing friends, as they influence our character and decisions.

REWRITE THIS SENTENCE

Friends: A family we choose Friendships ^{ARE} chosen voluntarily, are valuable relationships. They ~~do~~ demands honesty and loyalty and ~~do~~ provide support in any situation. Friends must be chosen wisely as they shape characters.

Scanned with CamScanner

be precise and to the point word count is missing too need improvement 7/20