

Sentence Correction

Given praise by his teachers, his attitude became obnoxious.

His attitude became obnoxious after being praised by his teachers.

(Being^{*} confused)

Filled with excitement, the tickets were purchased for the concert.

Being filled with excitement, the tickets were purchased for the concert.

Confused by the instructions, the recipe was difficult to follow.

Being confused by the instructions, the recipe was difficult to follow.

He has visited as many historical places as one has or can visit.

He has visited as many historical place as he could visit.

She told me that I posted a letter.

She told me that she had posted a letter.

Running to catch the bus, the keys were left on the counter

While running to catch the bus, the keys were left on the counter.

Running in the forest a tree appeared.

While running in the forest, a tree appeared.

Tired and hungry, the sandwich was devoured in seconds.

Solution: - Being tired and hungry, the sandwich was devoured in seconds.

I who have no chance to meet him would rather go with you instead of sitting at home.

I, who have no chance to meet him, would rather go with you than sit at home.

He gave delicious sandwiches to children on paper plates.

He gave delicious sandwiches on paper plates to children.

When public transport is better developed, there will no longer be so many cars driving people to work.

If public transport is better developed, there will not be so many cars, driving people to work.

Biking through the park, the scenery was breathtaking.

I saw a breathtaking scenery while biking through the park.

1. It is a fact that I almost drowned makes me very careful about water safety whenever I go swimming.

It is a fact that the fear of drowning makes me very careful about water safety whenever I go for swimming.

2. The amount they receive in wages is greater than twenty years ago.

The amount which they receive in wages is greater than the amount they received twenty years ago.

3. Playing a game regularly is better than to read books always.

Playing a game regularly is better than reading books always.

4. It is one of the best speeches that ever been made in the General Assembly.

It is one of the best speeches that has ever been made in the General Assembly.

5. Ever since they had heard about the burglaries in neighborhood they kept on the light all the time and close all the doors and the windows very carefully.

Ever since they had heard about the burglaries in the neighborhood, they kept on the light all the time and closed all the doors and the windows very carefully.

6. When Susan realized that all of her bottles of the nail polish dries out she decides to keep them for decoration.

When Susan realized that all the bottles of her ^{nail} polish dried out she decided to keep them for decoration.

7. It was late in night and a boy rode his bike along the path when suddenly he stopped in shock as his head lamp was not working anymore.

It was late night when a boy rode his bike along the path, and he suddenly stopped in shock as his head lamp was not working anymore.

8. The girl told the conductor that she lost her train ticket and knew not how she would get home.

The girl told the conductor that she lost her train ticket and did not know how she would return home.

9. The crew was now on board and they soon busied themselves in preparing to meet the coming storm.

The crew were now on board and they soon busied themselves in preparing for the coming storm.