

Argument: Gender inequality in education system.

Gender disparity is one of the major challenge to the education system in Pakistan.

Gender disparity is the discrimination in education based on gender due to cultural norms and social bias. In Pakistan, there has been a common mindset to spend on male child first as he will be the breadwinner of family. ^{Along with,} Girls are more vulnerable either due to poverty, security concerns or the misinterpretation of Islamic concepts by clerics. Due to these stereotypic perceptions, the enrollment ratio of girls is significantly lower than boys. As according to Pakistan education statistics, the gross enrollment ratio for girls is 72%, significantly lower than 85% recorder for boys. Therefore, gender inequality is the major challenge to the education system of Pakistan.
