

What Happened at the Time of Partition of 1947

At the time of partition of India, several major events took place. The major event was, ended of British control over India. Power was transfer to two states Pakistan, and India in August, 1947. Partition time around 14-15 million people migrated across border. Muslim moved to Pakistan and Hindu moved to India. Due to migration around 1 million people were killed on both sides. Millions of people became homeless and both countries was facing a serious economic, administrative and social challenges.

Negative

At the time of partition of India, several major event did not took place. The British control over India did not ended. Power was not transfered to Pakistan and India. Partition time around 14-15 millions people stay in their own places. Muslim and Hindu not moved anywhere. Around 1 million people's were not killed on that time. Millions of people became not homeless. Both countries was not facing any economic, administrative or social challenges in their country.