

PRECIS PMS PUNJAB 2015

Title: Emergence of Middle Class in Pakistan

The economic growth in Pakistan has transformed it into a strong middle class society, despite being unrestrained poverty and inequality. The middle class is differentiated on the basis of income, profession, family, gender and language. Both modernist and traditionalist elements exist in them. They have been influenced by orthodoxy recently. Consumerism is what keeps them united. They have progressed technologically, run private polyclinics which as per survey provides one-third of healthcare to the population.
