

P PRECIS

The writer ^{has} drawn conclusion that war is the real instigator of civilization disintegration. As, war has an internal route of showcasing the power to avoid from its grip, civilization's development was looking wealth and making stronger army instead of reducing destruction in the environment. Moreover, states involved in war each other with ingenuity. War started to expose its malignity, stronger armed person depicts himself as a Moloch by controlling economic sphere, political arena and showing own capabilities. When Quantum and other military equipment was considered as a cancer for victims. In history, war and civilization has been searched to put a halt on war and to protect society. Then other ways of war inhibited like salvation.

However, individuals have choice to obtain good through direct and indirect means as a citizens.

Beside this, individual's rejection was considered ^{was} against department of war. Alternative peace objectives were created to influence and accustomed government for their anger. While recent experiences of war illustrates that these are two different ways that are impossible to achieve.

Title:- Co-relation between war and civilization

Total words in Precis :- 557

Total Targetted words :- 187

Total Attempted words :- 191