

DATE: _____

DAY: _____

The Need to Transform Extractive Institutions into Inclusive Institutions in Pakistan

1) Introduction

2) Why there is need to transform extractive Institutions into inclusive Institutions?

2.1, To improve the governance of a country

[Corruption Perception
Index Report]

2.2) Inclusive Institutions strengthen democracy and political stability

[Representation of people from different ethnicities]

2.3 To achieve sustainable economic growth

["Why Nations fail?" book]

2.4) To reduce elite capture of the institutions
[UNDP Report]

2.5) To eliminate social inequalities
in Pakistan
[Human Development
Index Report]

2.6) To reduce extremism and polarization in Pakistan
["The Bottom Billion" book].

2.7) To ensure justice delivery
in Pakistan
[Rule of Law Index]

2.8) To provide opportunities for women empowerment [Opportunities for women employment].

DATE: _____

DAY: _____

2.10) To achieve environmental sustainability and climate resilience [prioritization of green projects].

2.11) To restore public trust in state
["Consent, Dissent and Patriotism"]

2.12) To prevent institutional decay

3) Measure to ensure inclusive institutions in Pakistan:

3.1) Electoral and political reforms in Pakistan to achieve inclusive institutions
[Internal democracy, free and fair elections]

DATE: _____

DAY: _____

DATE _____

3.2 Devolution of power to local bodies
to ensure inclusive governance [ Article 140A
of 1973 (Constitution) ]

4 Conclusion

ESSAY

Inclusive institutions are the magic wands that can reform the governance structure of Pakistan. There is a dire need to transform the extractive institutions of Pakistan into robust inclusive institutions to turn around the destiny of the "Land of Pure". This transformation will bring several benefits. To begin with, it will improve governance and strengthen democracy in Pakistan. In addition, it will reduce elite capture of the resources and produce sustainable economic growth. Furthermore, it will strengthen social cohesion by reducing extremism and social inequalities. Moreover, it will restore public trust in government institutions. To garner these gains, corrective measures should be implemented to achieve institutional transformation. These include electoral and political reforms. Thus, Inclusive institutions are the panacea for the extractive institutions of Pakistan to achieve good governance and sustainable economic growth.

DATE:

DAY:

In a nutshell, there is a need to transform the institutions of Pakistan from extractive to inclusive. It will change the destiny of Pakistan in the cavity of nations by improving governance and strengthening democracy. Furthermore, it will put

DATE: _____

DAY: _____

Pakistan on the path of cautious sustainable economic growth. Moreover, it will help in national integration through social reforms. These desired results can be achieved by undergoing political and electoral reforms. Thus, real prosperity can be achieved through national reforms rather than international assistance.

---