Peace Is more Powerful than War.

Peace is more powerful than war because its build nations instead of destroying them. War brings losses of life, spread fear and long-lasting hatered, while peace promote unity, tolerance, understanding and progress. Peaceful nations focus on education, economic growth and developement. not on survival and threat. History shows that long-lasting peace achieve through dialougue and cooperation. not through weapons. True strength lies in resolving conflict Peacefully, peace heals wounds, gives hopes, unite people and gives better future for next generations
