

The benefits and the preservation of parks

As per the author, Urbanization have been increasing in the city areas. Due to this, the balance of the nature get disturbed. The increase amount of the green house gases in the environment. This effect is mitigated by parks. Parks have the ability to ~~to~~ decrease harmful effects of the green house gases. However, human beings unite with different communities in the parks. This place provides mental peace and calm. Human beings also organize concerts in the park for their fun. Moreover, it is the collective responsibility of the citizens and the government to implement urban planning and preserve green spaces.

Approximate words in the passage = 260 words

Approximate words in the preis = 94 words
