

True purpose of Education

Men's quest for knowledge has shaped civilization from earliest tools to modern digital technologies. Education plays a vital role in producing responsible members. However, modern education often prioritizes skills over character building and intellectual depth are neglected. This imbalance corrupts the society. Moreover, education is disconnected from cultural values. A sound education system must harmonize modern knowledge with moral and cultural foundation.

words in passage 154

words in preas = 64