

The year 2025 - Turning Point for Pakistan

Outline

1) Introduction

a) Background

b) Thesis statement: The year 2025 stands apart. It was not a perfect year but it gives direction - a shift from consolidate crisis management to strategic repositioning. Developments across economic, technological, educational, security, and diplomatic domains indicate that 2025 can be rightly described as a turning point in Pakistan's history.

2) Internal Dimensions

a) Economic stabilization through structured reforms

(i) Inflation controlled

(ii) Fiscal discipline improved predictability

b) Growth in digital economy and IT sector

(i) Expansion of IT exports, freelancing and digital services

(ii) Technology improves efficiency

c) Educational and skill based Human Capital Development

(i) Focus on vocational training increased during the year

(ii) Merit based scholarships and laptops schemes.

d) CPEC Phase II and Industrial Development

- (i) shift from infrastructure to industrial cooperation under CPEC
- (ii) Special Economic zones generate employment and production.

e) Structural Shift in the Law and Order System

- (i) Law and order transformation under 27th amendment
- (ii) Restructuring of governance capacity

3. External Dimensions

a) May 2025 Victory enhancing Pakistan's diplomatic credibility

- (i) Strategic maturity of Pakistan in May 2025
- (ii) Pakistan's diplomatic standing improves

b) Major Bilateral and Multilateral Agreements

- (i) Economic, trade and investment agreement with regional and global partners
- (ii) Pakistan-Saudi Arabia defense Pact changed strategic and security dynamics.
- (iii) Strengthened diplomatic ties with US

c) Renewed Investor and Donor confidence

- (i) Improved country risk perception after diplomatic and security gains
- (ii) Better economic conditions depicts that the economic credibility is strengthening.

DATE: ___/___/___

d) Pakistan - Afghanistan Security Dynamics

- (i) Pakistan's efforts to manage border security and maintaining regional stability
- (ii) Pakistan is viewed as a key security stakeholder

e) Strengthened role in regional peace and stability

- (i) Pakistan's engagement in regional conflict management
- (ii) Responsible conduct enhances trust among neighbouring states

4) Conclusion