

There is no such thing as coincidence in this world.

Outline

1. Introduction

Hook

Thesis Statement:

The inevitable results of complex casual chains, mathematical probability and interconnected systems eliminate the possibility of true 'coincidence'. Behind every paradigm situation the achievement of imagined end is the result of firm faith on own's ability, optimistic attitude for hardwork and cofunctionality of sound mind with sound body nulifies coincidence effect.

2. There is no such thing as coincidence

1. Coincidences are statistical illusion

- The law of a truly large numbers (a 1 in a million event)

2. Coincidence is rejected by the evidence of uncertainty

- The smoking gun logic

3. Butterfly effect nullifies the coincidence effect ✓

- Forensic analysis in micro transaction during "Flash Crashes" ✓

4. Consistency diminishes the coincidences ✓

J.K. Rowling's consistency in publishing Harry Potter. ✓

5. Hardwork rejects the coincidence existence ✓

- Madam Curie in winning nobel prize in Physics ✓

6. Coincidence advocates pessimistic environment ✓

- In 1854 cholera was believed a disease due to coincidence of bad air and divine punishment but later germ theory rejected coincidences ✓

7. Coincidence tie ~~between~~ ~~between~~ divine will ~~and~~ with inappropriate planning ✓

- Unequal access of people to right of life during COVID ✓

8. Coincidences ends up at natural disaster ✓

- 2011 Tohoku Earthquake and Tsunami

9- Patriarchal society supports coincidence for promoting misinformation
- Women are emotional and unfit for high-stress job

10- Coincidences actually promotes political chaos

- In 'Mandate of Heaven' random cosmic events concluded the empire's mandate

11- Goal orientation proves the absence of coincidence
Thomas Edison bulb invention

12- History supports evidence over coincidence

- Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes "a silly leaflet by an unknown man" as case study

13- Economic crisis have structural causes

2008 Global Financial crisis

14 Political instability is pattern based
Arab Spring

15- Social issues follow predictable patterns
Shift in modern criminology toward Epidemiological modeling

16- Revolutionaries were never supported by coincidence
Networked Authoritarianism
Collapse in Kyrgyzstan claim revolutions follow Modular Phenomena

C Conclusion

The Essay

"Synchronicity is the coming together of inner and very good events in a way that can not be explained by cause and effect and that is meaningful to the observer."

Carl Jung

To the casual observer, the world is a chaotic storm of random occurrences. However, beneath the surface of 'luck' and 'chance' lies a sophisticated architecture of causality. The assestion that there is no such ~~thing~~ as coincidence challenges the notion of a disorganized universe, proposing instead that every encounter and every 'accident' is the inevitable result of prior actions or a higher design. This perspective shifts the human experience from one of passive victimhood to one of meaningful participation in a purposeful reality. The inevitable results of complex casual chains, mathematical probability and interconnected systems eliminate the possibility of true 'coincidence'. Behind every paradigm situation the desired result is because of synchronization of action and planning in a particular direction.
