Title:

Abou Ben Adhem

One night Abou Ben Adhem woke up from a sound sleep and saw an angle writing something. He asked the angle courageously what he was writing. The angle replied that he was writing the names of those who loved God. The name of Abou was not mentioned in the list but he request to write his name as a person who loved his creatures. Next night the angle came again and showed the list of those whom God had blessed. Abou was very happy to see his name at the top of list.
