History is full of people who started their lives ~~at~~ from extremely ~~of~~ tough circumstances but later on became one of the world's successful personalities.

A person can only get wealth in silver platter, that also, if it is inherited from the ancestors but fame, respect and success. A person can buy the materialistic things with money but happiness can not be bought. For a person to gain respect sometimes it takes decades to do but it could only take few moments to lose it all.
