

① The difference between human beings' fear of death and children's fear of darkness is how they developed such fears. Children fear ~~that~~ ghosts and thieves because they find them as their enemies in the stories. Whereas, the human beings fear death because of the pain.

② Religious and sacred view of death is that the pain they get while dying is the punishment of their sins. Moreover, the death play the role of bridge between this world and the next world.

③ Monks described painful experiences in their books as the process of death in which humans purify their souls by the means of physical tortures. Hence, humans afraid of death because of its agony.
