5) Conclusion

This world is a test for humans & where everybody rushes to fulfil their desires by choosing wrong path, but wrong cannot be considered right even it is prevalent everywhere and there is no alternative for right. However, people can get to the right track by following some steps. There is a long line of traffic because road is blocked and the reason is that a political leader ^{is} going to cross this path. Meanwhile, an ambulance is also stuck in a path and finding its way to save the life of a person. Giving special advantage to rich people is very common in a society, but everybody comes in this world with equal rights. So, the right track is often ignored by people as they resorted to follow wrong path. Many ill practices are very common in this world, but the truth is that they remain considered wrong; no matter they are toppled with right.

Child labour is very common as the inflation goes high. Poor parents find difficulty in earning as much as to fulfill their stomach. They send their child to earn for themselves. This practice is wrong because every child has his right to get education and to enjoy his childhood. Looking into the society, every other girl is doing house jobs. Many girls are raped and killed every single day. Hence, sending child ^{sent} for child labour is wrong and giving them their rights at home is obligatory for their parents.

Class difference is much considered in a society even in the Muslim countries. Class difference is against the prosperity of a country. Many distinctions are present in the societies i.e. poor and rich, black and white, male and female. However, prosperity comes when everybody treats equally. In history, many wars and revolutions emerge as people do not ^{be} treated equally in a society. French revolution comes when poor people have to pay more taxes as they are poor. Hence, it is right to give everybody equal opportunities, but mostly ignored.

Democratic state ensures a good state even it is in poor health everywhere in this world. Many people for centuries fight for democracy and they are against theocracy. However, countries which declare themselves as democratic state are not democratic in a true sense.

For example, Pakistan is a democratic state though its people are still fighting for democracy. Democracy is in a poor ~~even~~ condition whether it is administrative, judiciary or parliamentary system. However, fully democratic state is good for a country even nobody follows it completely.

Many people find the way out of poverty in the form of committing crimes. Crimes in every condition is wrong even people consider it right in poverty. Crime rate is increasing day-by-day and many criminals resort to killing, snatching purses, hacking. However, it is wrong.

whether it is committed by rich or poor. Holy Prophet said, "if Fatima committed theft, I will order to cut her hands too." However, crime is crime no matter it is mixed with necessity.

Internationally, many countries are engaged in war and clashes. They have an excuse of their survival, and to desire to insert their hegemony as every other country is doing it. However, war and clashes ~~come as a result~~ in endless oppression. For example, there is a war between Russia and Ukraine. Russia is a growing power and wants to control weak states. Meanwhile, many poor people are becoming more poor because of different sanctions imposed on ~~the~~ Russia and Ukrainians they are the major cheap oil exporters. Hence, it is wrong to engage in wars even every country considers it right for their personal advantage.

Transparency and accountability is imperative for prosperity; even people consider it attack to their privacy. In this world, it is a common practice to ask questions from poor people: if they get some money, and rich people have freedom to do corruption. People hesitates to put pressure on rich people. Many leaders and rulers run away from ~~a~~ punishment and to be accountable for their acts Islam teaches transparency and accountability for every single act and saying. For example, Umar (R.A) was addressing to people and a woman appears and negate him. Instead of running ^{away} from him, he admits his mistake. Hence, transparency and accountability is right, even nobody is applying it in their country or society.

Charity and circulation of wealth is good even nobody considers it as they have an excuse of poverty. Circulation of wealth is a right way because poverty anywhere is a threat to prosperity everywhere. However, many people and state ignore it fully and resources are enjoyed by only limited people.

For example, Shangha is a ^{town} city of Balochistan where majority is coalminers, and is threat to prosperity in the whole province. Hence, charity and circulation of wealth is good for a prosperous state; even if nobody admits it.

Cultural values give people respect in a society; but everyone considers them to be backwardness. Cultural values ensure dignity of elders, females and love for children. However, many modern people are claiming their cultural values as banal conceptions. For example, children cannot bear their parents in old age and find ways to leave them. Hence, cultural values are good for a society;

even many people in modern world find it ridiculous.

Many countries leave the right path of siding with oppressed side and make their foreign policies according to their interests. However, speaking in the favour of oppressed is right, but many countries ignored it as they have threat to their own prosperity. For example, Kashmir issue is still alive as Pakistan is a weak country as compared to India. Pakistan lost its favour in international forum as trading with India is an interest of many date. Hence, it is right to speak for an oppressed one, even if everybody sideline it for their personal gains.

Everybody has an equal right of opportunities. Many people are deprived from their legal rights because they are from backward areas. However, it is good for a state to ensure equal opportunities for everybody. Many countries are lacking in this area. For example, according to the act of 25-A every children from five to sixteen age have right of free education. But 200 million children are out of school. Hence, it is good for a country to ensure the rights of every citizen; even it is not followed everywhere.

The use of technology for a destructive purpose is wrong but it is ignored in many circumstances.

It is wrong to use technology for making nuclear weapons, and it can be used for many peaceful outcomes.

Many people in this modern world neglect the right use of technology which is wrong for everyone. For example, many hackers leak the privacy of many individuals or countries which leads to despair and destruction. Hence, it is right to use technology for peaceful purpose & instead of using it for wrong purpose.

To counter the situation, it is necessary to abide by the laws and regulations set by state or international organisations. Laws are always useful in bringing justice and stopping the oppression, anywhere in this world. Many international forums discourage the ill practices in this world. But it is time to implement these laws as well. For example, according to UN charter every country has a right of national integrity and sovereignty. So, these such laws should be implemented in this world.

Adhering to Islamic principles can eradicate many ill practices from this world. Islam is a complete code of life which ensures the best way of living. So, it's the Teachings of Islam should be promoted in this world.

For example, it's judicial system should be implemented which will remove many ~~was~~ wrong doing. As Islam says, "hand for hand, head for head and foot for foot" so, these judicial practices will ~~is~~ instil fear in people, and they will avoid many wrong doings.

Education should be promoted in this world.

There is a need of promoting education severely. People from backward areas do not know their rights and obligations as they have not even primary education. However, education brings awareness in people which brings awareness in the whole world. It is rightly said, "if you live long, educate your children". Hence education is necessary for making distinction in right and wrong.

In a nutshell, wrong cannot be altered to right; right cannot be avoided by mixing it with wrong. However, people are so wrong is wrong, no matter if the whole world is doing it.

or the rich and prestigious people are doing it. Moreover, Many people are doing wrong things at many different levels, but they are still wrong in doing that. Moreover, right is right, no matter how hard it is to abide by ^{moving to} the right things path. Hence, these wrong doings can be removed from this world by acknowledging the right path. Certain ~~to~~ little steps are necessary to create the big differences.
