

Topic: Neglect of Enhancing Intellectual Ability in our Education System.

Attention Grabber

A popular maxim goes "old is gold," which seems relevant for fast growing new trends especially in fields of fashion and music. The craze of new generation for these inclinations is undecipherable. Contrarily, this funky fashion and loud music is no man's land who belongs to older generations. For them the classy music and traditional fashion inclinations were best of all times.

Linking Sentence

However, in some cases, old systems and trends needs a renovation, particularly the education system of Pakistan which is still buried in the colonial remains of colonial policies.

Outline Reflection

Our education system has neglected the importance of intellectual ability so far. It is because our education system still depends on old and outdated methodologies - In campus political inclination, practices of favoritism and low budget allocation also hinders the process. Moreover, lack of interest and strict learning environment ~~also~~ also add fuel to the fire. Above all, It is the government that is failed to provide quality education - Due to these reasons, indecision and extremism ^{has} prevailed in society. In addition, leadership, management and problem solving skills are ^{also} highly compromised. Therefore, there is a need to enhance intellectual ability in our education system like encouraging activity based and participation based learning. The culture of book reading should be promoted - Political practices in campus should be discouraged. Furthermore, Open forums for debates should be encouraged.

Thesis Statement

In short, there is a sheer disregard for enhancing intellectual ability in our education system. This negligence has affected the intellectual vis a vis national development of Pakistan. Therefore, by taking practical measures problems can be resolved.

(258)