Q NO. 03

Read the passage Carefully and answer the questions.

Q NO 01: what made Guderian a talented and rebellious Commander?

Ans: There is no indication that Heinz Guderian had any doubts whatsoever about Hitler's decision to go to war. The year 1939 was the moment when the general ~~was~~ finally left the office desk and became a commander in the field. For the upcoming Blitzkrieg Campaigns, he appeared to have a natural talent. Guderian had initiative; he was leading from the front and he was a bully against peers that happened to get into his way.

Q 2: what were the offensive tactics of Guderian during wars?

Ans: It was Guderian, and at first he alone who introduced the tank to the army and its use as an operative weapon. Guderian favoured from the beginning the Strategic use of Panzer forces - a deep thrust into the enemy, without worrying about a possible threat to his own unprotected and far-extended flanks. That was he planned to transport all supporting elements of the Panzer forces (infantry, artillery and engineers) in a similar way, that is, on tracks and the supply services (petrol, ammunition, food) were organically incorporated with the fighting troops.

Q 3: What was his disagreement with Hitler?

Ans: The attack on Soviet Union resulted in a severe crisis of Hitler's war plan. After Kiev, Guderian resumed course against Moscow. However, the Red Army's dogged defence, the German's outflanking their own supply lines, and the advent of the winter thwarted the plan of attack on Capital. And failure of General Busse to ^{rescue the} encircled German troops in Kustain, General Guderian and Adolf Hitler started at each other in pure rage. The German army in was hopelessly cut off. Guderian tried to convince Hitler that this position should be abandoned and the army transported across the Baltic Sea. Hitler disagreed as he always did. This was the point of disagreement of Guderian with Hitler.

Q: 04: How was his relief from Command proved a blessing in disguise?

Ans: As Guderian opposed Hitler with an

Openness unprecedented in this Circle. With flashing eyes and the hairs of his mustache literally standing on end, he stood facing Hitler across the marble table. Gudeerian, purple at his face, screamed at Hitler. Hitler's staff stood by in shock. In the end both men had to be separated. On March 28, 1945, Hitler relieved Gudeerian of his Command: "I think you have had enough. You are relieved of Command. You can go home now." Gudeerian had to take leave.

Q₅: what would have happened if Gudeerian had not been sacked?

Ans: In 1945, Gudeerian had realized that his position - very close to the Captain of a sinking ship - could become dangerous. He did what he had always been very good at: escalating a controversy. If Gudeerian had not been sacked again he might have heated debate with Hitler over an abortive counter offensive against the fortress Küstlin.

Q:07 Translation

Everyone in this egoistic world axe to his own grind. nobody cares anyone and neither they have true love in their hearts nor sincerity. Their moral values are on decline.
Similarly, we not only treat people materialistically but also our country in a same way. Have we ever thought it collectively? that in a country where once love was preached but now feronism prevailed everywhere. But nothing has still gone wrong if we critically
