Q# 1

In this modern world, everybody only wants to get his work done by others. Nobody cares for others. Nobody has true love and sincerity for others. We are selfish, not only in regards of humanity, but also in regards of this country. We have never thought, a country where people had celebrated peace, is now a place of terrorism. But it is not too late to be back.

If we love Pakistan in a true sense, and we do self-analysis, we can rectify many of our bad habits. We are the building-block of future. We should eliminate the distinction between different sects; rich and poor; and <sup>a distinction between</sup> high and low caste. We have to work hard for the future of our country. Pray for the unity of its people, so that they could be united in working for the progress of this country, because we are alive until our country is alive.

Lack of Unity in Pakistan

According to Anatol Lieven, nothing can be a threat to the integrity of Pakistan, unless Pakistani army face any pressure. They are have to experience some pressures and demands to act against their duty of defending Pakistan as well as to act against the teachings of Islam. However, Pakistani army faced difficulties when their supervisors could not let down the demands of America. Revolution would be favourable in this situation, but, the revolution would end up in civil war which is not suitable for a country. Moreover, regional identity is used for political gains.

Except Islamists and soldiers, Pakistanis are divided in many identities. An author claims, Ali Hassan said to her, if he moved for any kind of revolution, it would not be successful as people have many different kinds of identities. Moreover, Pakistanis cannot unite on anything.
