

Ridda Fairina:

Neglect in Enhancing intellectual ability in our education system:

Education is the most powerful weapon which can use to change the world (Nelson Mandela).

Attention
grabber

This quote shows the importance of education for the development of any state. Education which provides the critical thinking to a person need to be addressed.

connector

Intellectual ability which polishes the personality of an individual is possible by upgradation of education system. However, the education system of Pakistan lack enhancement in intellectual ability which directly affect the growth of an individual in every field of life.

List of outline

Various factors like lack of quality teachers, outdated curriculum which lack modern research, unavailability of funds for research purpose, lack of professional counselling, peer pressure regarding marks and grades, and violation of merit system are responsible for lack of intellectual ability in our education system. These factors hampers the critical thinking among students which leads to decrease research ratios. Unemployment and lack of trained people in country are the product of neglect of enhancing intellectual ability. This need to be addressed by upgradation of curriculum and fulfillment of merit criteria for academic as well as professional purpose. Proper training of teachers is necessary to ensure modern techniques. Reward system for intellectual people should be introduced.

Thesis
Statement

Neglect in enhancing intellectual ability in our education system is the by product of factors like low quality teachers, outdated curriculum, violation of merit criteria which affects the state of individual as well as country in term of unemployment, low GDP. This education system needs to be improved by proper training of teachers as well as students.

