Man and the Love of God

One night, Abu Ben Adham woke up from his deep sleep to find an angel in his room, writing something in a book. Upon asking about it, the angel told him that they were the names of people who love God. When Abu found out that his name was not on it, he prayed to be on that list. The following night, the angel returned to ~~the~~ inform Abu that he made it to the top of that list.
