

Precis Writing

Title: The Love for Humanbeings

Indent the paragraph.

One night, Abu Ben Adham woke up from his sleep and noticed an angel was writing something. Upon asking, the angel replied gently that he was writing the names of those who loved God. He asked the angel about his name, which was not there in the list. Abu requested the angel to write his name among those who love humanbeings. Next night the angel came and showed him the list of those who had been blessed and his name was on the top.