

Mock-5

English Essay :

Essay :

Success or popularity
what drives youth?

Outline :

1. Introduction.

Thesis statement :

Success and popularity are basically reciprocal of each other - But the main thing that drives youth is popularity - Because success ultimately comes after popularity.

2. How success or popularity drives youth.

3. Popularity is the hidden driving force for youth.

a) Students struggle for obtaining high grades to gain popularity.

b- Students leadership in universities is a way of gaining popularity. ✓

c- Young generation came in politics for gaining popularity. ✓

d- Young generations adopt popular professions? ✓

e- Youth comes in media industry for gaining popularity. ✓

f- Youth follows popular persons than successful persons. ✓

g- Every successful person is not popular. Does not relate to what drives youth.

4) Success is the primary driver of youth.
Success definitely comes after popularity. This is not counter perspective. This is the same as your key stance.

a) Young cricketers gains success after gaining popularity in nation. ✓

b) Politicians becomes successful after popularity in nation. ✓

c) Media persons becomes successful after popularity

5) Popularity is sometimes unethical driving force for youth X - irrelevant to the topic. Morality of driving force is not the concern of topic

a) Sport fixing in cricket
for gaining popularity

b) Dishonesty and corruption in elections for gaining popularity

c) Media persons sometimes adopt unethical means for popularity

d) Cheating in exam for gaining high grades to become popular

6 Popularity trend is more common in Pakistan.

7 Desire of popularity enables youth to achieve specific position in life

8 Conclusion.

*No counter perspective.
This is an argumentative topic*

"The greatest trap in our life is not success or power but popularity"

Not relevant to the content

Make quotations part of your Intro.

Henri Nouwen

The very interesting question which everyone wants to know is either success or popularity which thing drives the youth to achieve anything in life. Basically, popularity is the hidden driving force for youth because students, young politician, media anchors, and actors, everyone wants to achieve popularity instead of just becoming a successful person in society. And we can observe this in society that mostly youth follows the most popular persons.

No cohesion b/w the quotation and the next sentence

Whether

either

thing

Add your thesis statement here

Do not enlist points.

we

in society. Because popular anchors & media person and politicians have more following than any successful but defame business man. Because, usually all successful persons in society are not also popular. And, if we look at the other side of this view then we can say that success usually comes after gaining popularity. For instance young cricketer and politician easily gain success after gaining popularity. Although, sometimes popularity becomes unethical driving force for youth and young generation admits unethical ways to gain popularity, like politician are somehow involved in dishonesty and corruption.

Avoid starting sentence with 'And', 'Because', etc.

Inherent sentence.

No logic b/w resoning of two sentence.

Write in 3rd person.

That is the same

side.

just to gain popularity in elections - But instead of all these things,

we must have to say that popularity

enables youth to achieve specific position in life No clear distinction b/w switching paragraphs.

thing is that how success Another very important or academic language.

or popularity enables

youth to achieve

anything - And how these

act as a driving?

forces behind success of youth. The simple

You are answering why not how.
answer is Human nature and society in which human being lives. Basically human nature is like that human being wants recognition in their society and it is Reference?

the second most desire after basic desires. And the society in which human beings are living in a society which likes the popular and successful persons instead of defamed and loser-

So, basically human beings own desires of becoming

This paragraph popular and successful does not relate the societal pressure to leading in the outside enables them to achieve anything in life.

It is the basic ^{desire} need that everyone wants success but the basic hidden

driving force for youth to achieve anything is mostly popularity not success.

9 write in 3rd person academic can give some example

~~that~~ which can prove this concept that the basic
driving force for youth

is popularity and *establish the logic behind
your argument
before example.*
the desire of positive
recognition in society

if we talk about the students then we can observe thing that mostly students want to make their parents proud and they want to achieve a specific position

 in front of teachers and in front of their fellows - Because it is the common desire of children to gain attention. So, they tried to gain good grade in class for gaining attention of teachers and their and parents.

Broken sentences.

No cohesion

No structure.

wrong tense

No example

No research

So, ultimately we can say that students also?
 want popularity or fame in front of their fellows, teachers and parents - So, they do hard work for gaining his grades and ultimately
 for gaining popularity.

Students leadership in colleges and universities is also one of the good example of gaining popularity. Mostly, colleges and universities have youth councils and heads of these councils are usually the popular member of these councils. Mostly in universities youngsters tries to become popular in front of everyone for leading these councils. And for becoming young students prove their abilities in curricular and extra curricular activities. So, we can say the desire of leading their fellows compels them to do hard work in academic field. After these youth and Discuss arguments not examples.

lead these councils in order to become popular among their peers.

No structure

No logical reasoning

No research.

students council, youngsters usually decide to gain more fame in society and then they decided to come ^{wrong phrase} in politics
 for gaining popularity.
 Because we can see
 in our own society
 that in small villages
 and town politics
 does not give financial power to youngsters
 but it usually gives fame and popularity
 to them in their towns ^{redundant} and villages and this thing gives them satisfaction and somehow after popularity they established themselves in this field Youth Councils and youth wings are the basics ~~th~~ which then gives a platform to youngster to prove

Inherent
 idea

their leadership abilities and then they usually came into practical What is the argument in favour of?
 politics for gaining more
 popularity.

If we talk about
 another example then youngsters in media industry are the best example of this thing
 that how popularity
 act as a driving
 force for youngsters to achieve everything in life. The attraction of popularity in media industry (Drama industry, film industry etc) compel youngsters to achieve that specific position. Most of the successful and wealthy No argument persons just come in drama and film industry to gain popularity Reference?
 So, we can say popularity is the ^{basic} driving force ^{for} ~~than~~ ^{youngster} for becoming a prominent member of society.

Due to this popularity trend, youth usually adopt these professions which are more popular in society.

One of the best example of ~~dr~~ adopting popular profession is the aspirant's desire to adopt civil services as a profession.

Because civil services are most popular ^{reference?} and fameful ^{not a word} service in society. - So, aspirant's mostly tries to see it for serving their country but for also becoming popular in society and family ^{Inherent.} ^{what your argument is and what other} Some of the ^{what you are trying to} ^{Prove. here are different}

examples of: opting popular profession are opting of medical and engineering in youth because these are more

in society:

One

other best example of opting popular profession is opting of acting and anchoring in youngsters of wealthy and already successful families.

So many youngsters of wealthy and successful

families just came in media industry (acting, No structure anchoring, film industry) just to gain popularity in society.

And the fan
following of these popular persons in society is much more than normal successful

persons in society

They might be popular professions but they do not bring popularity necessity.

For instance: →

JoJo Siwa, who is a teenage YouTube star and singer has 12.3 million subscribers / followers on Youtube. However Yo - Yo Ma who is world-renowned cellist and winner of multiple Grammy Awards has only 1.2 m followers.

How does that comparison work. Both are based on popularity?

And it is the basic fact of Incorporate your example with in the paragraph.

our society that every successful person is not popular in the world on the other hand every popular person is mostly successful and well established in society. For instance Tim Berners-Lee who is the inventor of the World wide web and director of world wide web - He has a net worth of $10 million but still he is no so much popular

even he has 3.9 m followers

only on

Twitter. →

So, we can say,
all the p successful person are not as popular as the famous
persons in society.

The most interesting
thing which everyone has to know is that thing that "Success definitely comes after popularity" Not necessarily.

We can take the examples of most of the under 19

players, whose gait ~~are~~

popularity in PSL

and then

achieved success

The fact that they get to play at national level means they get success first.

with popularity by selection in national cricket team. Basically their popularity in PSL and other under-19 leagues hits the public and the senior authorities and then they successfully maintain their carrier -

Another very good example is that most of the political leader usually becomes successful after gaining popularity in public. When they become popular in nation then this thing compel public to vote them and to make them prominent member of national and provincial assembly. There are so many examples present in society of first-becoming popular and then becoming successful.

PTI leader Amran

Khan is ~~also~~ one of the best example of
it. So we can say

popularity is the key driver to gain success

and success definitely comes after popularity

If we talk about
media person then we can say and we can observe easily

that those ~~anchors~~

and actors whose firstly become popular in society then they easily achieve success in their carrier. In Pakistani society, there are so many examples. One of the example is

host "Iqbal-ul-Hassan"
 who firstly became
 popular in society
 by his method
 of detecting criminals, and corrupt bureaucrats and then he had literally became successful in his career and proved this thing that success definitely comes after popularity.

However, we can say that sometimes the desire of becoming popular and the driving force of popularity in youngsters sometimes compels them to involve in unethical activities and in unlawful means.
 For instance, we can say that the desire of becoming

popular in cricket compels cricketer to involve in sport fixing Because, through normal ways, they are unable to perform well so they usually done
sport fixing with opposite team member to improve their performance

(For instance, sport fixing with a batter
of any country
for not to out
the player of any country and when he does not out by the opposite batter
and eventually completes his century then this thing makes him popular in society).

Another common example of gaining popularity is dishonesty and

corruption in elections to gain seats in elections for ultimately
gaining popularity.

Some media persons
somehow involve themselves in unethical means to just be coming populer. And in this way ^{ee} "Latata anchor" term is very common.

Students also do ~~teachi~~ cheating in exams just to gain
high grade and after high grade
ultimately for gaining popularity. So, we can say that somehow popularity as driving force compells them
to involve in unethical means.

If we talk about
our own country specifically.

then in Pakistan
popularity is the most
driving force for youngsters to achieve some thing in life.

The increasing no of media youngsters, youtubers Tiktaker and bloggers are some of the examples

that in our society popularity is the hidden
driving force for
youngsters to become successful in life.

And this desire
of becoming popular in society enables
youth to achieve
specific position in society. For becoming
popular in society,
youngsters tries their best to achieve a specific position in every field and ultimately they becomes successful after becoming popular.

Conclusively, we can say that the basic
driving force for
youngsters in our society is popularity.

Because, it is a positive driving force
if we take it
positive for achieve goals - Although popularity as driving force has some ethical risks but ~~and~~ if we ~~use~~ see it positively and if youngster takes it positively to gain some best

position in society
then it is the

Don't generalise. best driving force Reap ^{the whole} essay. for youth to achieve everything -

	Category	Total marks	Obtained marks
Content	Qualitative analysis	10	1
	Quantitative analysis	10	0
	Validity & Reliability	10	0
	Relevance	10	1
Language	Sentence structure	5	1
	Vocabulary	5	1
	Clarity	5	1
	Command of language	5	1
	Expression	5	0
Structure	Outline	5	1
	Introduction	5	1
	Body paragraphs	5	1
	Conclusion	5	1
Coherence	Cohesion	5	1
	Coherence	10	1
Total			12