Ans (b) Guderian utilized following offensive techniques. First, he commanded the motorized XIX Army corps during the war against Poland. Second, he achieved an important breakthrough at Sedan which helped Germans to cut off French forces connections from the British forces. Third, he always preferred the strategic use of Panzer forces without worrying about his unprotected flanks.

Ans (c) General Guderian disagreement with Hitler was on the war against Soviet Union. He tried to convince Hitler, After the defeat of General Bruce in the Soviet Union, that the German forces would retreat and transported across the Baltic sea. However, Hitler rejected his notion and sacked him from the commander position.

Ans(d) General Guderian relief from commander position proved a blessing because Hitler's Generals were involved in the war crimes. Thus his relief from commander position saved him from being involved in the war crimes.

Ans(e) If Guderian had not been sacked then it would have been multiple consequences. First, it would develop more resentment between Hitler and Guderian because of difference of opinion they hold on the war against Soviet. Second, it would impact the unity in the German forces because Guderian was a celebrated general in the German Army.

Anatol Lieven analysis on Pakistan's identity crises

Anatol Lieven ~~describes in his book that~~ discipline and unity in Pakistan's army will only be destroyed when a powerful ideological factor clashes with their military discipline. ~~If their Muslim~~ ~~identity clashes with their soldier's~~ ~~identity, then they will follow the~~ Islamic Ideology which led to mutiny in the army. consequently, it will not lead to Islamic revolution but to civil war and the state would collapse. Moreover, he further describes the political cultural of Pakistan which shows that Pakistan's political culture is based on regional identities. further, he said that most of the Pakistanis possess multiple identities except Islamist and some soldiers who derives their ideology from a single <sup>identity</sup> source.

Thus, Pakistanis are the people who derive their ideology from multiple identities.
