Attention Grabber (Hook)

Once upon a time, a group of seven men were in search of a cave to take shelter. When they found one, they decided to take some rest. They remained slept for three centuries. When they woke up they felt hunger and decided to buy some food. As they had slept for three centuries, their currency (coins) was outdated. So when they went to market to get food in exchange of coins, they faced very difficult situations. Similarly our government dreams about their governance for next tenure and pays no heed to the development of education system. That's why our education system is outdated and useless just like the currency of those seven men.

Completely unrelated to the topic.

Also, your story is simply about people falling asleep and not knowing that 3 centuries have passed. It has nothing to do with neglect. Also nothing to do with governance.

Write in 3rd person.

Connecting Sentence

Reflection of outline

As intellectual abilities are badly ignored in our education system. There is no creativity at school levels, lack of research facility and advance methods, lack of educational reforms and adequate budget. High scale dropout is also one of the main reasons. All these factors have drawn our country into the darkness of unemployment. Due to unskilled professionals there is no creativity and critical thinking ability. Students are losing interest in studies because their degrees are useless. In order to pull our country out of this dark era we have to review our education policies. Use of technology in education sectors and trained teachers can enhance intellectual abilities.
