Causes of Unemployment in Pakistan

Paragraph #1

1/5

Topic Sentence

One of the main causes of unemployment in Pakistan is the negative stigmatization of manual labour jobs and gender stereotypes about certain professions, which influences career choices.

Explanatory Sentence

The impression that manual labour is dirty, low-paying and unskilled and that some occupations are more suited to men than to women are all factors in the raising unemployment rate.

Supporting Sentence

Society still maintains a colonial mentality, as seen by their preference for being unemployed over shameful manual labour employment in Pakistan.

Evidence

While most Pakistanis dismiss working as a careem or bykea driver as even a part-time job, over 80% of those who travel abroad work as deliverymen, masons, waiters, drivers, and other blue collar jobs.

*Includant to the argument
→ if colonial mentality is the cause of unemployment in the reason then relate it to that.
→ Also, give separated example (requirement of the assignment)*

Supporting Sentence (2)

Traditional gender roles have created a glass-ceiling for women that prevents them from pursuing certain professions, making it exclusive for one gender and utterly forbidden for other to pursue a career in that field.

Evidence/ Example (2)

For instance, men are associated with manual work, automobiles, business and politics, while women are slotted into areas of health care, social services, the arts and personal care.

Does not fulfill the requirement of the topic.

Concluding Sentence

Here, Pakistan faces unemployment as a result of negative stigmatization of manual labour and gender stereotypes associated with professions.

Sub-heading:- Effects of unemployment in Pakistan

Paragraph #2

Topic Sentence.

There are numerous serious effects of unemployment in Pakistan because of the stigma attached to manual labour and gender-specific jobs.

Explanatory Sentence

People who are unable to obtain desired jobs migrate abroad in search of better living conditions, while others who are below poverty line turn to begging, which reflects failure of economic and social policy.

Supporting Sentence

Due to poor working conditions, many people choose begging over low-paying profession since it is more convenient.

Evidence/ Example.

According to Asian Human Rights Commission (AHRC), 2.5 to 11% of Pakistani population chooses to beg (Nehreen Anwar, Begging: 'A societal curse, September 2022).

Supporting Sentence

This is not written like it is an effect of unemployment
The economy of Pakistan has significantly impacted by the movement of Pakistanis overseas, however, the migration of educated and professional Pakistanis has led to a brain drain.

Evidence/
Example
(2)

Nearly 200,000 people left for abroad in first three months of the year to find work there
(Zoya Nazir, Pakistan's brain drain crisis escalates as thousands leave, May 2023).

Concluding
Sentence

Therefore, unemployment leads to migration and begging, which have ~~a detrimental impact on society~~ reflect failure of social and economic ~~soci~~ policy.

Paragraph #3

Sub-heading = Remedies to solve the problem of unemployment in Pakistan.

Topic
Sentence

To solve ~~overcome~~ the ~~the~~ problem of unemployment in Pakistan, its numerous effects need to be addressed, along with the ~~appropriate~~ remedies. Do not address the effects, solve the problem that is causing the effects

Explanatory Sentence

The issue of unemployment can be solved by changing society's perception of manual labour jobs, improving their working conditions, ~~of these jobs~~ and eliminating gender stereotypes regarding work. Choose one argument or at most 2 that are connected themselves.

Supporting Sentence

Reforming labor market to make it more flexible, will help society change its view.

Evidence

For instance, providing safe and healthy workplaces, paying workers a fair income, giving benefits such as health insurance and retirement plans will help society view it as a worthy profession.

Supporting Sentence (2)

Gender stereotypes in employment market should be eradicated. Create a link as to how that will reduce the unemployment

Evidence

That is not a solution, that is mitigation of the problem.

Only 25% of Pakistani women participate in labor force, compared with 85% of men, and only 5% of senior and leadership roles are held by women (Huzaifa Sarfaraz, Women Labor Force Participation in Pakistan: a Survey, 2019). Scanned By Scanner Go

Concluding
Sentence.

On this account, unemployment can be tackled by changing perceptions ~~by~~ improving conditions and removing gender based stereotypes in the workplace.
