Translation:-

A successful person is always a step ahead of the rest. His success is not due to his office or system but by virtue of divine providence. We should have faith that God will also bless us. The efforts which are not rewarded by the people, indeed Allah rewards those virtues. One should have strong conviction in this notion, the same way he believes in the existence of his body. Sheikh Saadi once said "Whenever you plead to Allah for something, plead not according to your status but plead according to the greatness of Allah." "It is possible that my status could be small but the bestower may reward me a kingdom." His greatness knows no bounds.
